

Robert L. Atmar, MD

Professor

Medicine

Baylor College of Medicine

RSV Vaccines: Moving on to Recommendations

Robert L. Atmar, M.D., is the John S. Dunn Research Foundation Clinical Professor in Infectious Diseases in the Departments of Medicine and Molecular Virology & Microbiology at Baylor College of Medicine. He is a member of BCM's Vaccine Treatment & Evaluation Unit and the Digestive Diseases Center, and he also serves as the chief of the Infectious Diseases Service at Ben Taub Hospital.